Look-Alike Sound-Alike (LASA) and Confused Drugs

The following list of confused drug names, including look-alike and sound-alike name pairs, has been extracted from the Institute of Safe Practices (ISMP) 2024 List of Confused Drug Names. These drugs have been matched with their Most Common Indication (MCI) for additional reference.

This list is intended to alert healthcare professionals of commonly confused medication names, in the effort to reduce medication error rates and associated negative health outcomes. Additional strategies to reduce error rates include using both brand and generic names on medication orders, tall man (mixed-cased) lettering, and configuring computer systems to require a specific amount of similar characters to pull related products during searches.
